Cardboard trays for fruits and vegetables

It is very important that products grown with great care arrive to your customers in perfect condition. The use of appropriate packaging is therefore essential. Good packaging not only adds to the presentation of your product, but also protects it from outside influences.

At Argos, we offer various durable cardboard trays for packing various fruits and vegetables. We always strive for sensible packaging, which means that our packaging provides protection during storage and transport, guarantees product shelf life and has an appropriate appearance for your product.

Because we produce our cardboard trays in-house, we can develop and customize them customer specific to your needs. You have the choice between printed or unprinted trays, so we can develop and produce the perfect tray for your product. Our production facility in Honselersdijk uses the latest technologies and high quality paper, allowing us to move quickly and guarantee short delivery times.

Moreover, we have the ability to supply our cardboard trays FSC-certified, so we contributing to a sustainable world. By ordering our locally produced cardboard trays, you also contribute to reducing CO2 emissions because less transportation is required. So, not only do you receive the packaging you want quickly, but you also contribute to reducing environmental impact.
