Cardboard trays for fruits and vegetables

Ensuring the quality of fresh produce grown with care and making sure it reaches your customers in optimal condition is extremely important. Selecting the right packaging solution is therefore a crucial factor. Thoughtful packaging not only contributes to the presentation of your product, but also offers protection against external influences.

At Argos, we offer a wide range of cardboard trays that are ideal for packaging various fruits and vegetables. Using advanced technologies and various types of paper, from our own production site in Honselersdijk we can offer a suitable cardboard tray directly from stock that meets the customer's wishes and needs.

We also offer the possibility to provide our cardboard trays with FSC certification, thus contributing to a more sustainable world. As a result, you not only receive the desired packaging solutions for your fruits and vegetables, but you also actively contribute to reducing your carbon footprint.
